NEW QUESTION: 1

Which file contains the information on where to look for host information and the order for the search?

- A. /etc/registry
- B. /etc/resolv.conf
- C. /etc/hosts
- D. /etc/nsswitch

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2

Which of the following statements relating to the Biba security model is FALSE?

- A. It is a state machine model.
- B. Integrity levels are assigned to subjects and objects.
- C. A subject is not allowed to write up.
- D. Programs serve as an intermediate layer between subjects and objects.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Biba model was developed after the Bell-LaPadula model. It is a state machine model and is very similar to the Bell-LaPadula model but the rules are 100% the opposite of Bell-LaPadula.

Biba addresses the integrity of data within applications. The Bell-LaPadula model uses a lattice of security levels (top secret, secret, sensitive, and so on). These security levels were developed mainly to ensure that sensitive data was only available to authorized individuals. The Biba model is not concerned with security levels and confidentiality, so it does not base access decisions upon this type of lattice. The Biba model uses a lattice of integrity levels instead of a lattice of confidentiality levels like Bell-LaPadula.

If implemented and enforced properly, the Biba model prevents data from any integrity level from flowing to a higher integrity level. Biba has two main rules to provide this type of protection:

*-integrity axiom A subject cannot write data to an object at a higher integrity level (referred to as "no write up").

Simple integrity axiom A subject cannot read data from a lower integrity level (referred to as "no read down").

Extra Information on Clark-Wilson model to understand the concepts:

The Clark-Wilson model was developed after Biba and takes some different approaches to protecting the integrity of information. This model uses the following elements:

Users Active agents

Transformation procedures (TPs) Programmed abstract operations, such as read, write, and modify

Constrained data items (CDIs) Can be manipulated only by TPs

Unconstrained data items (UDIs) Can be manipulated by users via primitive read and write operations

Integrity verification procedures (IVPs) Run periodically to check the consistency of CDIs with external reality

The other answers are incorrect:

It is a state machine model: Biba model is a state machine model and addresses the integrity of data within applications.

A subject is not allowed to write up is a part of integrity axiom in the Biba model.

Integrity levels are assigned to subjects and objects is also a characteristic of Biba model as it addresses integrity.
