NEW QUESTION: 1

Your network contains an Active Directory domain that is synced to Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) as shown in the following exhibit.

You have a user account configured as shown in the following exhibit.

For each of the following statements, select Yes if the statement is true. Otherwise, select No.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer :

Explanation:

Explanation

Box 1: No

Password writeback is disabled.

Note: Having a cloud-based password reset utility is great but most companies still have an on-premises directory where their users exist. How does Microsoft support keeping traditional on-premises Active Directory (AD) in sync with password changes in the cloud? Password writeback is a feature enabled with Azure AD Connect that allows password changes in the cloud to be written back to an existing on-premises directory in real time.

Box 2: No

Box 3: Yes

Yes, there is an Edit link for Location Info.

NEW QUESTION: 2

A company announces that its corporate strategy has changed and it will be necessary to close down a division, resulting in job terminations. However, an ongoing project for this division must be completed as scheduled. Knowing this, project team members are underperforming, and project key performance indicators (KPIs) are declining.

What should the project manager do?

- A. Schedule a team-building exercise to help meet project goals
- B. Ensure project execution is unaffected by enforcing contract agreements
- C. Start planning to cut jobs once the project reaches its last phase
- D. Apply team development techniques such as recognition and rewards

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 3

You have an on-premises file server that stores 2 TB of data files.

You plan to move the data files to Azure Blob storage in the Central Europe region.

You need to recommend a storage account type to store the data files and a replication solution for the storage account. The solution must meet the following requirements:

- * Be available if a single Azure datacenter fails.
- * Support storage tiers.
- * Minimize cost.

What should you recommend? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

Box 1: Blob storage

Blob storage supports storage tiers

Note: Azure offers three storage tiers to store data in blob storage: Hot Access tier, Cool Access tier, and Archive tier. These tiers target data at different stages of its lifecycle and offer cost-effective storage options for different use cases.

Box 2: Zone-redundant storage (ZRS)

Data in an Azure Storage account is always replicated three times in the primary region. Azure Storage offers two options for how your data is replicated in the primary region:

- * Zone-redundant storage (ZRS) copies your data synchronously across three Azure availability zones in the primary region.

- * Locally redundant storage (LRS) copies your data synchronously three times within a single physical location in the primary region. LRS is the least expensive replication option, but is not recommended for applications requiring high availability.

NEW QUESTION: 4

Which of the following characteristics does not belong to Enable Notification Rules?

Please choose the correct answer.

A. The notifications serve as information and do trigger automatic actions or tasks.

B. If a customer wants to use notification rules with a custom business object, you as a partner need to enable the business object for notification rules in the studio: In the Notification Rules Wizard, you select business object fields that can be used as placeholders, conditions, and recipients.

C. After you have enabled the custom business object for notification rules, your customer can create notification rules for the business object in the cloud solution.

D. In SAP's cloud solutions, notification rules can be defined by customers to receive a notification in case a certain situation occurs for a business object.
