NEW QUESTION: 2

Sometimes its important to remove an RODC from your forest or domain.

However, its important that you follow a simple rule whilst removing RODC's.

What is this rule?

- A. Your forest must only consist of RODC's if you want to remove them
- B. All RODC's must be detached before removing a final writable domain controller
- C. All writable domain controllers must be removed before RODC's can be detached
- D. There are no rules for removing RODC's

Answer: B

Explanation:

This make more sense After researching this and using logic, we need a writable DC for a RODC to exist, therefore we have to remove all RODC's before removing the last writable DC.

PRIOR Explanation (answer D, no rule): A is not about an RODC removal but about a writable DC and anyway if there is no more RWDC, RODC is non sense... either i don't understand the goal of the question or it's simply the last answer (no rules)

<http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/cc835490%28WS.10%29.aspx> RODC Removal and Reinstallation This topic describes the different options and steps for removing a read-only domain controller (RODC) from a domain. The following are the basic methods for removing Active Directory Domain Services (AD DS) from an RODC:

You can remove AD DS and the RODC computer account in a single operation by using an account that is a member of the Domain Admins or Enterprise Admins groups. You can remove AD DS and the RODC computer account by using a two-stage operation, in which an RODC delegated administrator removes AD DS from the RODC and then a member of Domain Admins or Enterprise Admins removes the RODC computer account. A delegated RODC administrator can remove AD DS from a computer--to repair the software installation or even replace the hardware--and then reinstall the RODC without intervention from a member of Domain Admins or Enterprise Admins. =&gt;no particular requirement... so far, the only requirements i know is about stolen or compromised RODC (we should reset all the passwords that were stored in it but that's it.

A company has multiple development groups working in a single shared AWS account. The Senior Manager of the groups wants to be alerted via a third-party API call when the creation of resources approaches the service limits for the account. Which solution will accomplish this with the LEAST amount of development effort?

A. Deploy an AWS Lambda function that refreshes AWS Trusted Advisor checks, and configure an Amazon CloudWatch Events rule to run the Lambda function periodically. Create another CloudWatch Events rule with an event pattern matching Trusted Advisor events and a target Lambda function. In the target Lambda function, notify the Senior Manager.

B. Deploy an AWS Lambda function that refreshes AWS Personal Health Dashboard checks, and configure an Amazon CloudWatch Events rule to run the Lambda function periodically. Create another CloudWatch Events rule with an event pattern matching Personal Health Dashboard events and a target Lambda function. In the target Lambda function, notify the Senior Manager.

C. Create an Amazon CloudWatch Event rule that runs periodically and targets an AWS Lambda function. Within the Lambda function, evaluate the current state of the AWS environment and compare deployed resource values to resource limits on the account. Notify the Senior Manager if the account is approaching a service limit.

D. Add an AWS Config custom rule that runs periodically, checks the AWS service limit status, and streams notifications to an Amazon SNS topic. Deploy an AWS Lambda function that notifies the Senior Manager, and subscribe the Lambda function to the SNS topic.
