NEW QUESTION: 1

DRAG DROP

You manage an on-premises Active Directory environment. You implement an Office 365 tenant. Password requirements for the environments are listed in the table below.

You deploy Microsoft Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) Connect and configure synchronization between Office 365 and the on-premises Active Directory.

You need to determine the resulting policies for Office 365 users.

Which password policies will take effect? To answer, drag the appropriate values to the correct policies. Each value may be used once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

If your organization uses the accountExpires attribute as part of user account management, be aware that this attribute is not synchronized to Azure AD. As a result, an expired Active Directory account in an environment configured for password synchronization will still be active in Azure AD.

When password synchronization is enabled, the password complexity policies in your on-premises Active Directory instance override complexity policies in the cloud for synchronized users. You can use all of the valid passwords from your on-premises Active Directory instance to access Azure AD services.

NEW QUESTION: 3

The 'applicationdb' is using InnoDB and consuming a large amount of file system space. You have a /backup partition available on NFS where backups are stored.

You investigate and gather the following information:

[mysqld] Datadir=/var/lib/mysql/ InnoDB_file_per_table=0

Three tables are stored in the InnoDB shared tablespace and the details are as follows: -The table data_current has 1,000,000 rows.

-The table data_reports has 1,500,000 rows. -The table

data_archive has 4,500,000 rows. Shell> is -l

/var/lib/mysql/ -rw-rw---- 1 mysql mysql 744G Aug 26 14:34
```

ibdata1 -rw-rw---- 1 mysql mysql 480M Aug 26 14:34 ib_logfile0
```

```
-rw-rw---- 1 mysql mysql 480M Aug 26 14:34 ib_logfile1 ...
```

You attempt to free space from ibdata1 by taking a mysqldump of the data_archive table and storing it on your backup partition.

Shell> mysqldump - u root - p applicationdb data_archive
> /backup/data_archive.sql
```

```
Mysql> DROP TABLE data_archive;

Which set of actions will allow you to free disk space back to the file system?

A. Execute OPTIMIZE TABLE so that the InnoDB engine frees unused pages on disk back to the file system:

Mysql> OPTIMIZE TABLE data_current, data_reports;
```

B. Set the server to use its own tablespace, and then alter the table so that data is moved from the shared tablespace to its own:

```
Mysql> SET GLOBAL innodb_file_per_table=1;
```

```
Mysql> ALTER TABLE data_current ENGINE=InnoDB;
```

```
Mysql> ALTER TABLE data_reports ENGINE=InnoDB;
```

C. Take a backup, stop the server, remove the data files, and restore the backup:

```
Shell> mysqldump - u root -p applicationdb / >
/backup/applicationdb.sql

Shell> /etc/init.d/mysql stop
```

```
Shell> cd /var/lib/mysql/
```

```
Shell> rm ibdata1 ib_logfile0 ib_logfile1
```

```
Shell> /etc/init.d/mysql start
```

```
Shell> mysql - u root - p applicationdb <
/backup/applicationdb.sql
```

D. Enable compression on the table, causing InnoDB to release unused pages on disk to the file system:

Mysql> SET GLOBAL innodb_file_per_table=1;
Mysql> SET GLOBAL innodb_file_format=Barramcuda;
Mysql> ALTER TABLE data_current ROW_FORMAT=COMPRESSED
KEY_BLOCK_SIZE=8;
Mysql> ALTER TABLE data_history ROW_FORMAT=COMPRESSED
KEY_BLOCK_SIZE=8;
