NEW QUESTION: 1

SAP SRM provides predefined technical events for business objects. Events can be triggered by any of the following:

- A. The results of report runs
- B. Business changes made in the system
- C. Key Performance Indicators
- D. Passed deadlines

Answer: A,B,C,D

Explanation:

Explanation

Explanation/Reference:

Event schemas are used to control the effects of the events that belong to the business objects. They can be used to define the deadline for triggering a reaction to the event. Event categories are used to define the nature of this reaction. The system determines the recipient for event category Alert using alert category; it sends one of the following:

- * An alert, using alert category.
- * A message, using SAP Smart Form.
- * A work item, using workflow.

Note that an event always occurs at a predefined time. However, you can trigger an alert or message before or after this time by specifying a negative or positive value. If you enter no deadline, the system assumes that the value is zero and the alert is triggered at the moment of the event.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Link aggregation (LAG) is a partial implementation of the 802.3ad port aggregation standard. It bundles all of the controller's distribution system ports into a single 802.3ad port channel.

Restriction for Link aggregation:

+ LAG requires the EtherChannel to be configured for 'mode on' on both the controller and the Catalyst switch. ...
