NEW QUESTION: 2

Which backup method does not reset the archive bit on files that are backed up?

- A. Differential backup method
- B. Incremental backup method
- C. Additive backup method
- D. Full backup method

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

The differential backup method only copies files that have changed since the last full backup was performed. It is additive in the fact that it does not reset the archive bit so all changed or added files are backed up in every differential backup until the next full backup. The "additive backup method" is not a common backup method.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Which of the following is not a criterion for hedge accounting?

- A. The hedge is assessed only at its inception.
- B. A forecast transaction subject to a cash flow hedge must be highly probable.
- C. The hedge is expected to be highly effective and can be reliably measured.
- D. The hedge is formally designated and documented at its inception.

Answer: A

Explanation:

An entity can mitigate a possible loss by using hedges to offset risk. Thus, an entity is said to hedge its financial positions. One of the criteria for hedge accounting is that the hedge be continually assessed and determined to have been effective. Thus it is not assessed only at its inception.
