Database as a Service is an example of :

- A. Software as a Service(SaaS)
- B. Program as a Service(PaaS)
- C. Platform as a Service(PaaS)
- D. Infrastructure as a Service(IaaS)

Answer: C

Explanation:

One option frequently seen in the real world and illustrated in our model is to build a platform on top of IaaS. A layer of integration and middleware is built on IaaS, then pooled together, orchestrated, and exposed to customers using APIs as PaaS. For example, a Database as a Service could be built by deploying modified database management system software on instances running in IaaS. The customer manages the database via API (and a web console) and accesses it either through the normal database network protocols, or, again, via API.
