NEW QUESTION: 1

Click the Exhibit button.

Referring to the exhibit, which OSPF feature would connect Area 0 to Area 2?

- A. Route summarization
- B. Database synchronization
- C. Virtual link

D. Equal-cost multipath

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 2

The following commands have been issued on a Catalyst switch:

Which of the following VLANs is allowed on the trunk?

A. VLAN 1 and VLANs 101 through 200

B. VLANs 101 through 200

C. VLANs 1 through 4094

D. VLANs 1 through 3000

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

Virtual local area network (VLAN) 1 and VLANs 101 through 200 are allowed on the trunk. The switchport trunk allowed vlan command configures a trunk to carry one or more VLANs. The syntax for the switchport trunk allowed vlan command is switchport trunk allowed vlan {vlan-list | all | {add | except | remove} vlan-list}. VLANs specified in the vlan-list parameter should be separated by commas. However, if a contiguous group of VLANs is specified, the starting and ending VLAN numbers can be separated by a hyphen.

If no keywords are specified with the switchport trunk allowed vlan command, then only the VLANs contained within the vlan-list parameter will be allowed on the trunk. The all keyword specifies that all VLANs from 1 through 4094 should be allowed on the trunk. The add keyword specifies the VLANs that should be added to the list of VLANs that are already allowed by the trunk. The except keyword specifies that all VLANs from 1 through 4094 are allowed except the listed VLANs. The remove keyword specifies the VLANs that should be removed from the list of VLANs that are already allowed by the trunk.

In this scenario, the first command issued is switchport trunk allowed vlan all, which allows VLANs 1 through 4094. The second command issued is switchport trunk allowed vlan remove 1,101-4094, which removes VLAN 1 and VLANs 101-4094. Therefore, VLANs 2 through 100 are allowed. The third command issued is switchport trunk allowed vlan except 3001-4094, which specifies that all VLANs should be allowed except VLANs 3001 through 4094. Therefore, VLANs 1 through 3000 are allowed. The fourth command issued is switchport trunk allowed vlan 1, which specifies that only VLAN 1 should be allowed.

The fifth command issued is switchport trunk allowed vlan add 101-200, which adds VLANs 101 through 200 to the list of allowed VLANs. Therefore, VLAN 1 and VLANs 101 through 200 are allowed on the trunk.

Objective:

Layer 2 Technologies

Sub-Objective:

Configure and verify trunking

NEW QUESTION: 3

Which four actions are possible during an Online Datafile Move operation?

- A. Creating and dropping tables in the datafile being moved
- B. Flashing back the database
- C. Executing DML statements on objects stored in the datafile being moved
- D. Performing Block Media Recovery for a data block in the datafile being moved
- E. Querying tables in the datafile being moved
- F. Performing file shrink of the data file being moved

Answer: A,B,C,E

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

"The good news is that Oracle 12cR1 now offers the ability to move entire datafiles between different storage locations without ever having to take the datafiles offline. The datafiles being moved remain completely accessible to applications in almost all situations, including querying against or performing DML and DDL operations against existing objects, creating new objects, and even rebuilding indexes online.

Online Move Datafile (OMD) also makes it possible to migrate a datafile between non-ASM and ASM storage (or vice-versa) while maintaining transparent application access to that datafile's underlying database objects. OMD is completely compatible with online block media recovery, the automatic extension of a datafile, the modification of a tablespace between READ WRITE and READ ONLY mode, and it even permits backup operations to continue against any datafiles that are being moved via this feature."
