NEW QUESTION: 1

FCoE traffic from C200-1 on VSAN 13 is not being switched through the network. Which statement explains the cause of the problem?

- A. The LAN switchport on N5K2 must be configured as a trunk.
- B. The M1 card on the Nexus 7000 switch does not support FCoE.
- C. VLAN 1013 on N5K2 is not allowed on the LAN.
- D. The vFC on N5K2 that is associated with VSAN 13 is in the wrong port mode.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 2

Which of the following virus is a script that attaches itself to a file or template?

- A. Macro virus
- B. E-mail virus
- C. Boot sector
- D. Trojan horse

Answer: A

Explanation:

A macro virus is a macro or script that attaches itself to a file or template. When the file is loaded, the instructions of the macro or script are executed. Answer option B is incorrect. A boot-sector virus infects the boot record on hard disks and floppy disks, which is used to start the computer. When the computer is turned on or restarted, the virus is automatically executed. An infected boot disk may stop the computer from starting up. Answer option A is incorrect. An e-mail virus moves around in e-mail messages, and usually replicates itself by automatically mailing itself to many people in the their e-mail address book. Answer option D is incorrect. A Trojan horse program can contain viruses, but it is not a virus itself.

NEW QUESTION: 3

A security administrator must implement a system to allow clients to securely negotiate encryption keys with the company's server over a public unencrypted communication channel.

Which of the following implements the required secure key negotiation? (Select TWO).

- A. Steganography
- B. Diffie-Hellman

- C. PBKDF2
- D. Symmetric encryption
- E. ECDHE

Answer: B,E

Explanation:

Elliptic curve Diffie-Hellman (ECDH) is an anonymous key agreement protocol that allows two parties, each having an elliptic curve public-private key pair, to establish a shared secret over an insecure channel. This shared secret may be directly used as a key, or better yet, to derive another key which can then be used to encrypt subsequent communications using a symmetric key cipher. It is a variant of the Diffie-Hellman protocol using elliptic curve cryptography.

Note: Adding an ephemeral key to Diffie-Hellman turns it into DHE (which, despite the order of the acronym, stands for Ephemeral Diffie-Hellman).

Adding an ephemeral key to Elliptic Curve Diffie-Hellman turns it into ECDHE (again, overlook the order of the acronym letters; it is called Ephemeral Elliptic Curve Diffie-Hellman). It is the ephemeral component of each of these that provides the perfect forward secrecy.

Incorrect Answers:

A. PBKDF2 is to strengthen keys, but it would resolve the problem with the key exchange on an unsecure channel.

PBKDF2 (Password-Based Key Derivation Function 2) is part of PKCS #5 v. 2.01. It applies some function (like a hash or HMAC) to the password or passphrase along with Salt to produce a derived key.

B. Symmetric encryption would not in itself help on an unsecure channel.

C. Steganography is the process of hiding one message in another. Steganography is not used for secure key negotiation.
