NEW QUESTION: 1

Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com.

The Administrator deletes an OU named OU1 accidentally. You need to restore OU1. Which cmdlet should you use?

- A. Get-ADGroup cmdlet.
- B. Get-ADUser cmdlet.
- C. Get-ADObject cmdlet.

D. Get-ADOrganizationalUnit cmdlet.

Answer: C

Explanation:

You can also restore a deleted Active Directory object by using the Get-ADObject and Restore-ADObject Active Directory module for Windows PowerShell cmdlets. The recommended approach is to use the Get-ADObject cmdlet to retrieve the deleted object and then pass that object through the pipeline to the Restore-ADObject cmdlet. Reference:

<http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/dd379509.aspx>

The other cmdlets are used to search for or retrieve the respective objects into the pipeline, so they can be manipulated. However, this will only retrieve certain properties of the objects. The Get-ADObject cmdlet, as its name implies, grabs the entire object (including all properties!) from the directory.
