NEW QUESTION: 3

You are a professional level SQL Server 2005 database administrator in an international corporation named Wiikigo. You are experienced in implementing high-availability solutions, monitoring the database server, and design deployment.

In the company, your major job is the deployment, maintenance and support of Microsoft SQL Server 2005. You work as the database administrator for your company. There is a SQL Server 2005 computer in the company. A single user database named DB01 is contained in this computer. All company employees connect to DB01. According to the requirement of the company policy, the database should be fault-tolerant and that failovers require no administrative effort. Therefore, you are asked to provide fault tolerance for the database.

Your solution must guarantee that even if a complete hardware failure occurs on the SQL Server 2005 computer, client computers are able to connect to the database, including a failure of all disks. What action should you perform to achieve your goal?

- A. A two-node server cluster that contains the database needs to be implemented.
- B. Transactional replication needs to be implemented to another SQL Server 2005 computer.
- C. Database mirroring to another SQL Server 2005 computer needs to be implemented.
- D. Log shipping needs to be implemented to another SQL Server 2005 computer.
