NEW QUESTION: 1

A new user-defined field is added to the item master with a list of valid values. A default value was also specified in the configuration of this user-defined field thus ensuring that there is always an entry in the field, even if the user does not enter one. The field has also been flagged as a mandatory field. How are existing master data items handled?

- A. The list of valid values appears in existing master records, and you must select a default value.
- B. The information in the new user-defined field does not appear in existing item master records. It must be subsequently added manually.
- C. The default value from the user-defined field is automatically entered into existing item records.
- D. When the item master record is displayed, a message appears stating that a value from the selection list needs to be entered into the new required field.

Answer:

Explanation:

See the explanation below.

Explanation

In this case the second link should be used (This may vary in actual exam). The first link showed the following error so it should not be used.

Also, Two of the link choices used HTTP and not HTTPS as shown when hovering over the links as shown:

Since we need to do this in the most secure manner possible, they should not be used. Finally, the second link was used and the MD5 utility of MD5sum should be used on the install.exe file as shown. Make sure that the hash matches.

Finally, type in install.exe to install it and make sure there are no signature verification errors.
