NEW QUESTION: 2

Oracle identity manager minimizes inside threats, identify the powerful feature in OIM that helps in doing this.

- A. Identity federation
- B. Single sign on for end users
- C. Identity provisioning and deprovisioning
- D. Self-service identity management
- E. Delegated administration

Answer: C

Explanation:

Oracle Identity Manager enables policy-based automated provisioning of resources with fine-grained entitlements. For any set of users, administrators may specify access levels for each resource to be provisioned

Guaranteed De-provisioning When a user leaves the organization or her access is no longer required or valid due to a job change, Oracle Identity Manager revokes access on demand or automatically, as dictated by role or attribute based access policies. This ensures that a user's access is promptly terminated across all no-longer-required resources to minimize security risks, as well as to prevent paying for access to costly resources, such as data services. Reference: Oracle Identity Manager 11g, Data Sheet
