if you are using the default availability zone.

B. If you are using the default availability zone, you should specify the availability zone when launching the instance.

C. If you are using the default availability zone, you should specify the availability zone when launching the instance.

D. If you are using the default availability zone, you should specify the availability zone when launching the instance.

Answer: D

Explanation:

When launching an instance with EC2, AWS recommends not to select the availability zone (AZ).

AWS specifies that the default Availability Zone should be accepted. This is because it enables AWS to select the best Availability Zone based on the system health and available capacity. If the user launches additional instances, only then an Availability Zone should be specified. This is to specify the same or different AZ from the running instances.
