NEW QUESTION: 1

You are reviewing an existing Windows application that uses .NET Framework 4.

When the user clicks a button, the application sequentially processes thousands of image files contained in a directory. The user interface becomes unresponsive while the application processes the files.

You have the following requirements:

Modify the button's click event.

Increase application throughput by processing multiple image files concurrently.

Ensure that the user interface remains responsive while the application processes the image files.

You need to recommend an approach for meeting the requirements. What should you recommend?

- A. Use the `Parallel.ForEach()` method to process the images concurrently.
- B. Iterate over the image files by using the `Parallel.ForEach()` method. For each image file, start a separate thread that processes the image file, by using the `Thread.Start()` method.
- C. Use the `ThreadPool.QueueUserWorkItem()` method to queue up a single work item that uses the `Parallel.ForEach()` method to process the image files concurrently.
- D. Iterate over the image files. For each image file, use the `Process.Start()` method to launch a console application that processes the image file.

Answer: C
