NEW QUESTION: 2

Which of the following is not an acceptable reason for FMLA leave?

- A. Adopting or fostering a child
- B. Resting during a difficult pregnancy
- C. Caring for a partner who is ill
- D. Caring for a newborn infant

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation: FMLA rules allow an employee to take off time to care for a family member within one of the following categories: spouse, child, or parent. In some cases, an extended family member may apply, if the individual can prove a close relationship with that family member. ("Distant uncle rarely seen" does not apply.) Additionally, a romantic partner does not apply; FMLA rules make it clear that the person must be recognized as a spouse within his or her state. FMLA rules do apply, however, to an individual who needs to rest during a difficult pregnancy, care for a newborn infant, or adopt or foster a child.

Your network contains two Active Directory forests named contoso.com and dev.contoso.com. The contoso.com forest contains a domain controller named DC1. The dev.contoso.com forest contains a domain controller named DC2. Each domain contains an organizational unit (OU) named OU1.

Dev.contoso.com has a Group Policy object (GPO) named GPO1. GPO1 contains 200 settings, including several settings that have network paths. GPO1 is linked to OU1.

You need to copy GPO1 from dev.contoso.com to contoso.com. What should you do first on DC2?

- A. Run the Backup-Gpocmdlet.
- B. Run the mtedit.exe command and specify the /Domaintcontoso.com /DC: DC 1 parameter.
- C. From the Group Policy Management console, right-click GPO1 and select Copy.
- D. Run the Save-NetGpocmdlet.

Answer: C

Explanation:

In the GPMC console tree, right-click the GPO that you want to copy, and then click Copy.

To create a copy of the GPO in the same domain as the source GPO, right-click Group Policy objects, click Paste, specify permissions for the new GPO in the Copy GPO box, and then click OK.

For copy operations to another domain, you may need to specify a migration table.

The Migration Table Editor (MTE) is provided with Group Policy Management Console

(GPMC) to facilitate the editing of migration tables. Migration tables are used for copying or importing Group Policy objects (GPOs) from one domain to another, in cases where the GPOs include domain-specific information that must be updated during copy or import.

Source WS2008R2: Backup the existing GPOs from the GPMC, you need to ensure that the "Group Policy Objects" container is selected for the "Backup Up All" option to be available.
