C. Option A
D. Option B
Answer: A,D
Explanation:
B: Prior to Java SE 7, you can use a finally block to ensure that a resource is closed regardless of whether the try statement completes normally or abruptly. A try-with-resources statement can have catch and finally blocks just like an ordinary trystatement. In a try-with-resources statement, any catch or finally block is run after the resources declared have been closed.
D: The try-with-resources statement is a try statement that declares one or more resources. A resource is an object that must be closed after the program is finished with it. The try-withresources statement ensures that each resource is closed at the end of the statement. Any object that implements java.lang.AutoCloseable, which includes all objects which implementjava.io.Closeable, can be used as a resource.
