Understanding VLAN Trunk Protocol (VTP)

http://www.cisco.com/en/US/tech/tk389/tk689/technologies_tech_note09186a0080094c52.shtml Introduction VLAN Trunk Protocol (VTP) reduces administration in a switched network. When you configure a new VLAN on one VTP server, the VLAN is distributed through all switches in the domain. This reduces the need to configure the same VLAN everywhere. VTP is a Cisco-proprietary protocol that is available on most of the Cisco Catalyst series products.

NEW QUESTION: 4

HOTSPOT

Your company has a main office and a disaster recovery site. An Active Directory site named MainSite exists for the main office. An Active Directory site named DRSite exists for the disaster recovery site. The two sites connect to each other by using a WAN link. All users work in the main office.

You have an Exchange Server 2013 organization. The organization contains six servers.

The servers are configured as shown in the following table.

All of the Mailbox servers are members of a database availability group (DAG) named DAG1.

After a WAN link failure, you discover that all of the active mailbox database copies are located on MBX3, even though MBX1 and MBX2 are still running.

You need to prevent an automatic failover of DAG1 if the WAN link between the two sites fails but the servers in both sites are still running.

The solution must prevent two active copies of the same database.

What should you do? (To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.)

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Note:

Set-DatabaseAvailabilityGroup

The Set-DatabaseAvailabilityGroup cmdlet enables you to manage DAG properties that can't be managed from the Exchange Administration Center (EAC), such as configuring network discovery, selecting the TCP port used for replication, and enabling datacenter activation coordination (DAC) mode.

Parameters include:

/ DatacenterActivationMode

The DatacenterActivationMode parameter specifies whether datacenter activation mode is disabled (Off) or enabled for the DAG (DagOnly).

/ WitnessServer

The WitnessServer parameter specifies the name of a server that will act as a witness for the DAG. The server specified can't be a member of the DAG.

/ AlternateWitnessServer

The AlternateWitnessServer parameter specifies the name of an alternate server that's used to store file share witness data. The specified server must not be a member of the DAG that's configured to use it. This parameter is used only as part of a datacenter switchover process. If the DAG is extended across multiple datacenters in a site resilience configuration, we recommend preconfiguring the alternate witness server and directory.
