NEW QUESTION: 1

Two islands of IPv6 networks that are running ISIS (IPv6 IGP) must be connected using a tunnel over an IPv4 network. Which tunneling method can be used to achieve this goal?

- A. automatic 6 to 4 tunnels
- B. manual tunnels (RFC 2893)
- C. ISATAP tunnels
- D. GRE tunnels

Answer: D

Explanation:

GRE has a protocol field that identifies the passenger protocol. GRE tunnels allow Intermediate System-to-Intermediate System (IS-IS) or IPv6 to be specified as a passenger protocol, which allows both IS-IS and IPv6 traffic to run over the same tunnel. If GRE did not have a protocol field, it would be impossible to distinguish whether the tunnel was carrying IS-IS or IPv6 packets. The GRE protocol field is why it is desirable that you tunnel IS-IS and IPv6 inside GRE
