- B. patch --remove
- C. patch --undo
- D. patch --restore
- E. patch -U

Answer: A

Explanation:

patch takes a patch file patchfile containing a difference listing produced by the diff program and applies those differences to one or more original files, producing patched versions

-R or --reverse :Assume that this patch was created with the old and new files swapped. Patch attempts to swap each hunk around before applying it. Rejects come out in the swapped format.
